INTERNAL AWARDS PROGRAMS
OVERVIEW
RESEARCH COUNCIL MEMBERS
2006-2007 AWARDS TABLE
FIVE-YEAR SUMMARY
DETAILED FUNDING

INTERNAL AWARDS PROGRAM – FY 2006/2007

Established in 1980, the Internal Awards Program is funded from indirect cost revenues generated by externally funded grants and made available by the Vice President for Research. The Vice President calls upon the USF Faculty Senate Research Council for advice in establishing policies and making funding decisions. The Program is administered through the Division of Sponsored Research (DSR), and grants are distributed in two cycles annually.

The Research Council uses an NSF-type peer review process to evaluate and select awardees. During the Fall 2006 and Spring 2007 grant cycles a total of 143 faculty across all campuses served as proposal panelists and/or reviewers for the 159 applications received for funding.

OVERVIEW 2006/2007

USF tenured/tenure-earning faculty and non-tenure track faculty whose position descriptions include responsibility for conducting independent research were eligible to apply (subject to certain restrictions) for the seven Internal Award grant programs. A total of 159 applications were received for these grants and 69 new proposals were funded (at least partially) for an overall success rate of 43%.

Funding for the grant programs is derived from overhead revenues generated by externally funded grants awarded to USF faculty.

CONFERENCE SUPPORT GRANTS (CONF)

The Research Council and the Office of Research continue to be committed to fostering excellence in research and creative activity at USF. Professional conferences and symposia are an important part of the research and creative process in that they provide a venue for the dissemination of new information and a forum for the exchange of ideas. Therefore, the Conference Support Program was designed to provide supplemental funding for the planning and implementation of national and international conferences by USF faculty. These conferences enhance the research and creative environment at USF and bring prestige and recognition to the University and the State of Florida. Funded conferences must be open and accessible to the University community, and the maximum amount awarded is $10,000 per conference.

Thirteen applications were received in the Fall semester for Conference Support Grants. A total of $15,400 was awarded to support two conferences for an average of $7,700 and a 15% success rate.

CREATIVE SCHOLARSHIP GRANTS (CSG)

The Creative Scholarship Grants offer up to $7,500 for faculty working in the Fine Arts and Humanities disciplines where significant external funding is scarce.

The Humanities include: “language, both modern and classical; linguistics; literature; history; jurisprudence; philosophy; archaeology; comparative religion; ethics; the history, criticism, and theory of the arts; those aspects of social sciences which have humanistic content and employ humanistic methods; and the study and application of the humanities to the human environment with particular attention to reflecting our diverse heritage, traditions, and history and to the relevance of the humanities to the current conditions of national life.” – National Endowment for the Humanities

The Arts include: “dance, design, folk & traditional arts, literature, media arts (film, television, radio, audio art), music, musical theater, opera, theater, visual art (including painting, photography, sculpture, crafts, works on paper, other genres) and multidisciplinary works.” – National Endowment for the Arts

Applicants are required to describe how they will publish/disseminate the results of their projects, identify potential funding sources, and outline plans for applying the results of the projects to an external grant proposal.

Sixteen applications were received in the Fall and Spring semesters for Creative Scholarship Grants and 7 were funded for a total of $32,524, an average of $4,646 and a success rate of 44%.

ESTABLISHED RESEARCHER GRANTS (ERG)

The Established Researcher Grants are available for new associate or full professors or faculty who have been employed in teaching and research at USF for more than three years and who are attempting to shift into new areas of research. The grants provide up to $5,000 for one year of direct project support to launch productive new programs of research, scholarship, performance or exhibition that will lead to external funding for their work. In addition, the applicants are required to describe how they will publish/disseminate the results of their projects, identify potential funding sources, and outline plans for applying the results of the projects to an external grant proposal.

Twenty-one proposals were received in the Fall and Spring semesters for Established Researcher Grants and 9 were funded for a total of $44,000, an average grant of $4,889 and a success rate of 43%.

FACULTY INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL GRANTS (FITG)

This popular program provides support for noteworthy scholarly presentations by USF faculty at professional conferences or performance venues outside the United States when the applicant clearly demonstrates the benefit to the University's academic reputation. Applications are accepted for international travel only. However, the U.S. Territories are also included.

In addition to funding scholarly presentations made during the past six months, proposals are accepted for future travel if a formal invitation to speak/perform is included with the application. These grants offer up to $2,500 in funding.

Forty-five applications were received in the Fall and Spring semesters and a total of $42,608 was awarded to 27 trips, for an average of $1,578 and a success rate of 60%.

INTERDISCIPLINARY RESEARCH DEVELOPMENT GRANTS (IRDG)

The Interdisciplinary Research Development Grant was initiated to stimulate interdisciplinary research collaboration and the exploration of innovative ideas among faculty from different departments within a single USF college or across USF colleges/schools, or USF faculty in collaboration with faculty in different disciplines at other universities or agencies. The goal of the IRDG is to lay the foundation for large-scale external grant applications, in particular large multi-study grants, such as center grants, program project grants and training grants. It can fund pilot, draft or preliminary studies or projects as well as the multifaceted planning necessary to organize such an effort. Consequently, a proposal plan is required with the application.

The IRDG program was designed to fund one two-year grant, with $25,000 being available in the first year and an additional $25,000 being available in the second year, if the 12-month progress report is acceptable. Four applications were received and no new grants were awarded this cycle. The second year of the 2006 IRDG was funded this year at the $25,000 level.

NEW RESEARCHER GRANTS (NRG)

The New Researcher Grant program is for Assistant Professors who are new to USF (fewer than three years) and do not have established funding sources for their programs of research, scholarship, exhibition or performance. The goal of the grant is to fund activities that will provide the experience, data, or works necessary to successfully compete for grants from external agencies or foundations. The maximum amount of the award is $10,000 for a one-year grant period. Applicants are required to describe how they will publish/disseminate the results of their projects, identify potential funding sources, and outline plans for applying the results of the projects to external grant proposals.

Sixty-one applications were received in the Fall and Spring semesters and 24 were funded for a total of $164,478, an average of $6,853 and a success rate of 39%.
